

The Editor's Note

Volume 8 of the African Yearbook of Rhetoric brings together an array of analyses from diverse perspectives concerning a specific if neglected aspect of foundational rhetoric – security as it relates to the foundation, or the “deep state”.

As is our practice, senior writers and PhD candidates have joined forces to produce what we hope to be an interesting read.

The Editor and the Board are grateful to Dr Mariano Dagatti, Dr María Ledesma and Dr María Alejandra Vitale for having taken on the Guest Editing of Volume 8 and to the Agencia Nacional de Promoción Científica y Tecnológica and University of Buenos Aires for its generous support.

Volume 8 is the second issue published under the auspices of the Department of Private Law, following the affiliation of the Centre for Rhetoric Studies to the Faculty of Law at the University of Cape Town.
